JEFF DAVIS AT MACON.

HE MAKES A TRIUMPHAL MARCH T THE GEORGIA FAIR.

A Continued Ovation Along His Entir

Macon, October 24 .- Ex-President Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Davis, Miss Winnie Davis and Mrs. Hays, of bers of the Davis family began to make Memphis, reached here this evening at ready for the Thalian Club German and 5 o'clock under the escort of the special reception, given in bonor of Miss Winnie. This was the social event of committee that left here Sunday, From the week, and a most delightful affair it the time the car left Biloxi until it was. The Volunteers' armory, at which reached Macon the pathway was one streak of flowers. All along the line ful one. Here were gathered the leading crowds of men, women and children society people of Macon, and their flocked to the train to catch a glimpse of guests from all parts of the South Beautiful women, handsomely dressed, Mr. Davis, but he was too feeble to respond. Only at Americus did he appear on the platform and that was for a Mrs. Davis and Miss Winnic, were escortfew minutes. A committee from there met the train at Smithville and prevailed on him to do this. The party was joined on him to do this. The party was joined to the arriery by Captain Johnston. Mrs. Hays did not attend. The german was led by Mr. W. H. Felton, Jr. A pleasant incident was the presentation at Montgomery by the mayor and a large delegation of citizens when the party gift of the Thalian Club, and the precame on through to Macon. Long besentation was made by Major William fore the train arrived here the depot and area around it was packed with a dense few remarks. The dancing was kept up when the car rolled under the shed a yell went up that could be heard for miles. It was a long time before Mr. Davis and his party could be gotten off. The assistance of the police had to be called in. Then the difficulty was not lessened much. The presence of Mr. nated the whole town. The enthusiasm way to his sensations and wept. Frequently the march was interrupted on account of the crowd blockading the a silver tray, upon which is inscribed the street, and it was fully an hour after the train stopped before he reached the his last journey to meet old Confederates, upon the understanding that noth ing will be required of him to tax his strength. He will not be allowed to make termed the Davis part of the programme it kept a good many people from going to the park. Yet there was quite a large attendance and the result was the typical fair scenes. The streets of the city presented quite a lively appearance.

The Johnston mansion is, of course, the centre of attraction, as being the temporary home of the city's distinguished guests. All the members of the Davis party were pretty well fatigued by their long journey, and as a result there were no very early risers about Captain Johnston's home this morning. Mr. Davis remained quietly at the house all day, resting upon his bed or upon a lounge during most of the time.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the gentle men who were to escort Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Havs and Miss Winnie Davis to the park called at the Johnston house. The drive to the grounds was without particular The streets were quite full of people and at different places along the route there was considerable enthusiasm manifested. The band played "Dixie" as the carriages drove into the grounds, and there was a good deal of cheering by the crowds.

The carriages drove to the band stand, a short distance from the fair headquarters, and directly in front of the little cottage which has been furnished and appropriately decorated for a temporary home for Mr. Davis and the members of his party while on the grounds.

THE PRESENTATION TO MRS. DAVIS.

After more music from the band, for which he is so justly noted, intro duced the ladies to the vast crowd, and that day. then, on the part of Macon citizens, presented to Mrs. Davis a beautiful silver

MRS. DAVIS REPLIES.

At the conclusion of Colonel Hardeman's remarks, Mrs. Davis rose, and, in a few words, expressed her thanks for the remembrance and her gratification at the hearty reception.

President Northen then said that the State Fair association would feel bad if left out in these rejoicings, and intro-Vice-President Waddell. turned to Mrs. Hays, and, on behalf of the association, presented her with handsome diamond brooch. This concluded the exercises on the stand, and seats there were introduced to Mrs. Davis and her daughters. The ladies wer then taken to the little cottage, which has been placed at their disposal, where an informal reception was held. There was a great crush, everybody making a effort to be the first to greet the distin guished ladies. It took three policemen to keep the people from crowding in an filling the house. was no red tape about the reception. A the people filed in they were introduce by President Northen, or some other the prominent gentlemen, upon whor fell the pleasant duty of acting as escoto the guests of the day. For more tha an hour the people crowded in the liti honse. Mrs. Davis and her daughthad a pleasant word for each, and t affeir was a most delightful one. M Winnie was considerably fatigued by the reception, and at its conclusion was ea ried back to Captain Johnston's. T other members of the party took lan in the co'tage. The lunch was an ela orate one. Among those present wer Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Hays, President

Journey-How He Was Received by the Staunch People of the Empire State-A Splendid Reception Throughout 18 Easter State-A Splendid Reception Throughout 18 Easter State-A Splendid Reception Throughout 18 Easter Splendid Reception Throughout 18 Easte

After a quiet dinner, the lady memmade the assemblage a brilliant one, one

THE BEAUTIFUL GIFT.

The fruit bowl presented to Mrs. Davis is one of the handsomest pieces of silverware ever manufactured. When the Macon committee first went to Beauvoir, some of the members were times, Mrs. Davis had not been the recipient of quite so much attention of Along the lines blazed illuminated signs, such as "Welcome, Honored Chief!" and the like. Mr. Davis gave way to his sensetions and the result was the order for this beautiful sensetions. ful souvenir. The bowl, which is probwords:

Mrs. Jefferson Davis, from the citizens of Macon, October 15th, 1887.

The diamond brooch presented to spirit is willing, but his failing strength restrains him.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—Rain began falling about noon to-day, and while it didn't particularly effect what might be termed the Davis part of the programme of the Lamer House, and marched to the Lamer House, and marched to the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing proceedings of the programme of the Lamer House, and marched to the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing proceedings of the programme of the Lamer House, and marched to the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing proceedings of the programme of the Lamer House, and marched to the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing proceedings of the programme of the Lamer House, and marched to the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing proceedings of the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing process and the marched to the Fair grounds, where he made a brief speech and reviewed the remains the process of the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing process are processed as the process of the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing process are processed as the process of the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing process are processed as the process of the Johnston mansion, where honored and unsung by Southern people, when we see Confederate officers lowing process are processed as the process of great many things that I would like to Davis. say, but my physical condition will not admit of it. I wish my arms were large and long enough to embrace you all at once. God bless you.' At this juncture Governor Gordon and in behalf of the people of Macon.

Colquitt and others. Macon, Ga., October 27.—To-day was wet and sloppy. The city has been well and feel honored in so doing." filled, and every train brings in new arrivals. Mr. Davis and party were preand participating in the scenes and inciveteran saw him yesterday "at home." All wanted to see him again to-day, but leave the house. Mr. Davis cannot attend the Athens fair; his physicians think it would seriously endanger his lif. Mrs. Hays and past—thronged my mind, they were of His mercy. Miss Winnie bave accepted the invitation tendered them by the Athenaeum of that city to attend a complimentary re- snatches of little songs, and as we drove ception in their honor, and will leave through the "Double Branches" we Saturday morning for Athens. They watched the fish as they glided by and President Northen introduced Colonel Satur ay morning for Athens. They watched the fish as they glided by, and Tom Hardeman, who, with the elequence will be the guests of Mrs. Howell Cobb. my heart had a singularly uplifted feel-Mr. and Mrs. Davis will return home on

The management of the Academy o Music tendered a complimentary per formance to Mr. Davis and party, cluding Governor Gordon, Senator Col quit and other disinguished gentlemen Mrs. Bowers in "Lady Audley's Secret was the programme. A Leaf from the Book of the Past. BELMONT, May 27, 1871.—The long deferred wish has been accomplished. I have seen and conversed with President known him by his picture?" Davis. At last! Tears dim my eyes as I replied, "he is much better lookingrealize that a great desire has been attained. I am writing history for you, my children, and your mother tells you for the moment forgot all else in the the various persons who had occupied new of her interview with the man great content of an accomplished hope. "whom she most delights to honor;" tells you of one President, Jefferson took Jeff's hand in his, drew him closely Davis, dearer, far dearer now, in the to him and held there, with his arm

How I sympathized with our fallen chieftain in his degradation when he was taken through the streets of Augusta daring to wave her handkerchief to him, or make sign of sympathy—an hour when men were so crushed by defeat for fear of she ring his fate. I could denothing else for you, my President, and ve did all we could. We named our boy for you-our black-eyed, curly-haire little boy whom we never dreamed calling for our successful President. I: his change of fortune we felt honored i thus connecting ourselves with him. I read of his incarceration in Fortress meeting this evening. I have an engagement out of town and shall keep it. I do not recognize you as capable of continuing to call, he again expressed lockheads. That was a bold letter.

ern guests was scated near me; but what | thank them. cared I, as I remarked: "I am so anximeut," romarked Mr. Carter. This Dr. Dugas. piqued me. "You must admit that he Editors Chronicle: said a high price to gain this admira-as who has not?" The Thalian Club's favor was a combination hair pin and brooch. It is a star and crescent, consisting of diatulated with Mr. Carter, who is a minison him, nor can the people even shake his hand. All must be content to see him and have him among them. His spirit is willing, but his failing strength restrains him monds, rubies and emeralds, set in gold. ter, for speaking in disparaging terms of

"Why do you object to it?" said I. for by this time all the enthusiasm of nd in behalf of the people of Macon.

Brief speeches were made by Senator to love, to honor and reverence him.

Mr. Davis is the only man living whom

To the end the viernay with one ac-

I smiled as I realized how far my woand our conversation was changed by him homage.

t was not deemed prudent for him to the city and Jeff and I drove in the buggy. We hoped to see Mr. Davis. softened by the presence of beautiful nature. Jeff and I talked, and he sang ing and an ever present sense of the goodness of God.

Arriving in the city I read that President Davis would have a reception from twelve until two o'clock. Accompanied by Turner, Jeff and Mary Vason, we called at the Planters' Hotel. Colonel Snead met us at the door, and we waited a few moments until a party who had been introduced finished their conversation. "Is that President Davis?" I enquired, as I saw a gentleman bow to an introduction. "Yes, wouldn't you have younger looking." Just then the President turned, and Colonel Snead introduced us. I shook hands with him, and Drawing my little boy to me I introduced him as "Jeff Davis Thomas." He hour of defeat, than he was when Chief Magistrate of the Southern Confederacy.

around him, "I cannot tell you, madame, how highly I appreciate this compliment," said he. My heart warmed at his reception of Jeff, and I added, You will understand how dear you are to the 'dear daughters of your people, as you so gracefully term us, when I exguarded, no woman in that hour of peril plain to you that our little boy was named for you the alternoon you passed through Augusta a prisoner. We could do nothing else to show our sympathy, and that the close carriage passed by crowd-who, with uplifted hats, dared not cheer you." "My dear madame," he replied, I appreciate the compliment so much the more." We continued the conversa tion a tew moments longer, but during that time soul had met with soul and I think I understand his character better than I did before.

We withdrew to permit other introductions, and as I stood and contrasted his erect figure and graceful bearing Monroe; sighed, hoped and prayed for with those who were presented to him, I give to us Jeff Davis back again; release somest face would have no attraction. of southwest Georgia, who was a classimate of Mr. Davis at West Point. It was about three o'clock when Mrs. Davis subjugation of the Southern women." In the Southern women—that they would and Mrs. Hays left the grounds and returned to Crest Hill.

THE SOCIAL FEATURE.

After a quiet dinner, the lady mom-God and wept for joy, and Horace God to allow the best people he ever Greeley is one Yankee for whom I retain a warm place in my heart. Whatever rule of the meanest." That remark gave the motive, I thank and honor him for me the key to understand why it has not that one action, which ennobled his life. for one moment occurred to me to ren-I hope I may live to see and thank him for giving security for "our President." had the night before said I would be A select committee of the New York willing to do. President Davis was the Juion League called a meeting to take courtly, elegant gentlemen, but not peraction upon Mr. Greely's conduct. Re-plying to their letter he "dared them to wonder after his treatment that he should expel him." He began his letter: talk so; but he is mistaken, we are not Gentlemen, I shall not attend your the best, nor are the Ya kees the worst judging, or even fully apprehending me. his appreciation of the compliment I You evidently regard me as a weak sentimentalist, misled by a maudlin philostance under which Jeff had been ophy. I arraign you as narrow-minded named, increasing the value of the compliment. Mr. Davis drew Jeff to him I attended a club meeting at—on and kissed him, and also kissed Mary, Thursday night. While conversing with who was elegantly dressed and looking Mr. Carter he quietly remarked that Mr. Davis was in Augusta. "What, Presi-and left hoping that this would not be dent Davis?" I said, in tones of glad surprise. He told me "yes." 'I will certainly go the city in the morning and take Jeff with me," I remarked. Later the last opportunity I should have of companies of infantry from North Carolina and one from Maryland. Besides the hall of the House of Delegates, the spacious room being filled to its utmost capacity. in the evening a group consisting of Mr. White House I will acknowledge none. the State and six hundred veterans of Carter and others were conversing. The bone of contention, negro slavery, Others joined us, to whom I told the has been removed, and all may yet be good news, and there was a ring of ex- well. Not long since the Pehn sylvania

Among the distinguished men who the estimation which the Southern peo- rope, General Lafayette McLaws, Genple hold him in to his long imprison- eral Stovall, and General Harris with Augusta, October 21, 1887.—The tion," I replied. "Yes," he admitted, above was written sixteen years ago. My tunble to participate in to-day's cere"but Jeff Davis ought to thank God for little boy is a man now. He does not monies, but his brothers, General W. H. train stopped before he reached the home of Col. J. M. Johnson, where he will remain during his visit. In the large crowd that thronged the line of the march were many one-armed and one-legged veterans, gathered from various sections.

Mr. Davis is feeble, but from weakness caused by an unclosed wound received in the Mexican war. Ho makes his left in the Mexican war. Ho makes have defined to thank fold for will be discontinuously the folding of the case he would have gone to his grave unhonored and unsung." "Why, Mr. Carter, I am atonished," I replied, "but he generally thinks "mamma knows best." Mr. Davis is feeble, but from weakness and the case he would have gone to his prisoner. Had this not been his being a prisoner. Had this not had the with this his being a prisoner. Had this not been his send this leaf from my journal, and with Just then some one called Mr. Bruce | it invoke God's blessing upon the ex-

Mrs. J. J. Thomas. A DAY OF THANKSGIVING

The Annual Proclamation by the Presi dent-Thursday, the 24th Day of Nover as ber Appointed. Washington, October 25,--The following proclamation was issued late this soldiers. In the course of his address, from a corporal to a major general, as The goodness and mercy of God which Masons, two commanderies of Knights he said: "Friends and Brethren: I am the badge of distinction by which I have followed the American people durlike that flag, torn and tattered by should wish to be known by all men." I have followed the American people durling all the days of the past year claim. Elks, Junior Order of American Me storms and years. I love it for its own sake; I love it for yours; I love it as a memento of what your fathers did, and hoped that you would do. There are a long the fathers did, and hoped that you would do. There are a caughters of his people," Mr. Carter said, "That was so much like Mr. I like to like the followed the American people and the followed the followed the American people and the followed tion as your people, they are more yours | the hearts of our people | have been re- passed by. arose amidst wildest enthusiasm and than mine; just so, Mr. Davis alluded to plenished with fraternal sentiment and The procession was nearly an hour

I should feel willing to kiss the hand of cord testify our gratitude for all these the line of march were filled with peo- returned and related a funny experience blessings, I, Grever Cleveland, Presi-dent of the United States, do hereby processionists by waving hats and handman's love of hero worship, combined designate and tet apart Thursday, the kerchiefs, and expressed their pleasure he, "watching the display of fire works, vented from going to the park to-day with my indignation, had carried me, twenty-fourth day of November next, as in various other ways. The scene as the and to my astonishment the flamea day of than asgiving and prayer, to be head of the column marched into the threwout pictures of Governor Gordon dents of the day, on account of the mutual consent, not until Mr. Carterhad observed by all the people of the land. monument grounds was (despite the weather. This was a great disappoint- expressed a sufficiently high opinion of On that day let all secular work and em- drizzle) very inspiring. ment to the crowd, although every Mr. Davis to satisfy even my wish to do ployment be suspended, and let our General Wade Hampton and Governor people a semble in their accustomed Lee rode in front, side by side, as lov-Yesterday morning Turner rode into places of worship, and with prayer and ingly as when in other days they complete out, my nose fizzed away, and ingly as when in other days they complete out, my nose fizzed away, and my chin melted. I watched my own Heavenly Father for all that he has done Northern Virginia. The morning was beautiful, and as for us; while we humbly implore for- The statue of Fame crowning Lee at memories of the past—the Confederate giveness of our sins and the continuance the entrance of the grounds was sur- face and head had been extinguished, on that day, and let their hearts, filled Home, and as the head of the line apwith kindly cheer and affection ato reminiscence, be turned in thankfu mess to fired a salute. This statue is a plaster the Source of all their pleasures and the cast of colossal size, an imitation granite Giver of all that makes the day g lad and base, designed and constructed by John joyous, and in the midst of our viorship A. Elden and W. L. Sheppard, two of and by our gifts of charity and ready decorations to be seen throughout the benevolence let us increase the number city. The enthusiasm of the veterans of join in our thanksgiving.

and caused the seal of the United States and greeted them with an old-time Conto be hereunto fixed. 25th day of October, in the year of. our and sincere. Lord 1887, and of the Independence of the United States the 112th. GROVER CLEVELAND.

The word "boodle" has gone into the United States language. Eastern news-onpers, even those of Boston, use it

Secretary of State. The Origin of the Word "Boodle."

without quotation marks. We believe the word originally appeared in the Commercial Gazette in a report of the great American Express robbery in Cininnati several years ago. One Sunday afternoon a one-horse wagen was driven up the office on Race street, a small iron traveling sate loaded on and taken across the river into Kentucky and rifled. Larry Hazen, the famous old detective, employed by the Express Company to work up the case, and he succeeded in recovering most of the money.

met by a reporter at the police station

after the lucky capture Hazen the ew up his hands in happy mood and excl simed. his old soldiers and the rising genera "We've got the "boodle!" The word tions might imitate his many virtues. was afterwards used to denote meney the Most Worshipful Grand Master, W used for dishonest purposes in local politics, and disreputable politicis as in F. Drinkerd, presiding, took charge of the city and State came to be known a "boodlers" and their party as the "boodle party." The word spret kl in of the Order, proceeded to lay it. usage and is now common throug hont

At the conslusion of the ceremonie

MONUMENT AT RICHMOND.

> Pageant and a Celebration Worthy of the Great Chieftain in Whose Honor they were Made--Wade Hampton Marshai ci

RICHMOND, VA., October 27.—In spite of the rainy weather the city this morn- Delegates. ing soon showed signs of interest in the coming ceremonies, the crowd being the largest seen here in a great many years. | the State Fair grounds to spend the re-At a very early hour the sound of drum and bugle noted the preparations for the grand parade. Before 10 o'clock the with cheers and applause as they were rain bad temporarily ceased, but the recognized by the crowd, were: General clouds remained unbroken and threatening. People, however, seemed not to notice this, but had apparently made up

Mechanical College, two regiments of Virginia infantry, three companies of the South. cavalry, four companies of artillery, two ous to see him—I do so honor and called on Mr. Davis I observed Governor arrived this morning from the Washington and Lee University. 'General R. E. to and Lee University. 'General R. E. reading. ton and Lee University. General R. E. Lee was at the time of his death president of the institution and was succeeded by his son, General G. W. Custis see, who is now president. Owing to ous applause. the recent illness of the latter he was

At the head of the line, after detachmarshal of the day, General Wade Hampton, riding side by side with Governor Fitzhugh Lee, both superbly mounted. Then followed the Governor's staff, in brilliant uniform, and the assistant marshals. Next in successive order came the Virginia Confederate veteran camps, the veterans of the Maryland Line, the volunteer infantry of Virginia and North Carolina, the artillery and then all the various civic organizations By the President of the United ; States: embracing the Grand Lodge of Virginia pestilence and from every national never been seen in Richmond. Dense calamity. By His gracious favor the earth has yielded generous return to the whole route of march, and the populace labor of the husbandman, a nd every path gave vent to their enthusiasm in almost my nature was aroused; "you are a of honest toil has led to comfort and incessant cheers, to be but increased as minister; you speak of your congrega- contentment. By His 'coving-kindness some favorite or famed organization welcomed the ex-President to the State, the Southern people as his people; they patriotic endeavor, and by His unerring passing a given point, the Richmond heard of a man being worth his weight guidance we have be in directed in the fire department, with all its apparatus, bringing up the rear. Windows and every other available elevated place along rounded by about one hundred veteran inmates of the Confederate Soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. The crowd cheered, and for once the confederate soldiers' fire. Let families and kindred be reunited inmates of the Confederate Soldiers' and our happiness let us remember the Richmond's best known artists, and is poor, the needy and the unfor tunate; decided feature of the many designs and of those who, with grateful hearts, shall the Lee Camp Home was touching to oin in our thanksgiving. | witness, as they recognized so many of their old leaders and comrades in line federate yell, which, if not as strong as Done at the city of Washington, this in former days, was at least as hearty

The grand stand, to which admission was had only by tickets of invitation, was soon filled, while many thousands By the President: Thos. F. Bayar d, stood in the mud and rain in as close The yield of sugar cane is 299,706 galproximity as possible.

The Marine Band of Washington played "Dixie," "Star Spangled Banner," "Yankee Doodle," and other popular airs, while the veterans, the Grand Lodge of Masons and other organiza tions took the places assigned them.

Despite the constant drizzle, which soon increased to a hard rain, people held their places with amazing patience. A veteran voiced the sentiments of all where he said: "We used to follow Marse Bob in much worse weather than this, and surely we can cheerfully stand this to do bim honor." Governor Lee called the vast assemblage to order, and introduced the Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of Richmond, who offered a fervent and appropriate prayer When in which he thanked God for the life and example of R. E. Lee, and prayed that The Grand Lodge of Virginia Mason the corner-stone and, in "due and an cient form" and with the imposing rite the country. -Cincinnati Commercial. Governor Lee, in the name of the Lee goods on hand, it commemorates.

At this juncture the rain became so heavy that the Governor, after consultation with others, announced that further excreises would be suspended, and that he peem and oration would be delivered to-night in the hall of the House of

The crowd even then seemed reluctant to disperse, but finally sought shelter in the best of humor, many proceeding to mainder of the day.

Among the many ex-Confederates W. H. F. Lee and Captain Henry Lee, their minds to carry out the programme of the day in all its details, "rain or shi'ae."

Johnson, Wm. McComb, R. L. Page, George S. Stuart, L. S. Lomax, Robert Ransom, Mat Ransom, Epha Huntou, C. M. Wilcox, two corps of cadets, one from the Virginia Military Institute and the other from the Blacksburg Agricultural and Mechanics? C. M. D. Taliaferro, ex-Governor William Cameron, United States Senator John W. Daniels, also Colonel Charles Marshall, of General R. E. Lee's staff, and many others of lesser rank but a state of your animosities. Will you let the man who robbed you come and bend over your pillow? Why not fence him off with the golden bars of sunset? Why let these thoughts disturb your slumbars.

> THE EVENING CELEBRATION. capacity.

Governor Lee introduced General the State and six hundred veterans of the Maryland Line. The latter arrived here this morning and their appearance on the street, with the Marine Band of with great enthusiasm. After a brief with great enthusiasm. After a brief Davis in the carriage was the signal for a discharge of fire works all over the city. It was simultaneous and illumi-Captain James Barron Hope, the gifted Four professors and fifty-five students author of the poem which he was about

> Captain McCabe's recitation of the poem was masterly in its manner and was frequently interrupted with raptur

General Early next introduced Colonel Charles Marshall, military secretary o

oration, the reading of which occupied over an hour and a half, Wade Hampton remarks, in the course of which he said At the head of the line, after detachments of mounted police, came the chiefman than Washington, and spoke of the marshal of the day, General Wade great veneration which the people of South Carolina had for the dead Con-

General Early then closed the pro ceedings with appropriate remarks, and the gathering dispersed, and thus ended a day which will ever be memorable in

THE GREATEST ENHIBIT.

Mr. Grady's Blushes Cailed Out--How H Was Once Dumfounded.

(From the Athens Banne ..) We have frequently been asked what is the greatest exhibit on the grounds The answer a hesitatingly is "Henry Grady." It is Grady who planned the Piedmont Exposition; Grady who ad vertised it; Grady, seconded by Senator Colquitt, who secured the attendance of the President, and Grady who got the whole State wild on the subject.

A prominent Athens gentleman said to Grady on the grounds, just as we were him squirm. Better resign that feeling, finishing dinner, "Grady, I have often in gold, but you are worth your weight in diamonds to Atlanta," Grady smiled and blushed, and started to retreat, but girl who was helping her father on at the grounds the night before.

"I was sitting with my family," and myself. The compliment was apmortifying to relate, when the whole in my life I was silent.'

The Crops of the Year.

The annual report of the Commission er of Agriculture has been hunded to the ciliation. Oh, man, take that step, it orinter, and we are permitted to take the following extracts from the report regarding the yield of the principal crops

The yield of cotton is estimated at 605,114 bales, an increase over last year's crop of 75,114 bales. The yield of corn is estimated at 17,490,690 bushels, an inbushels. The yield of oats is 4,001,075 bushels, an increase of 300,313 bushels. lous, a decrease of 59,901 gallons. The yield of sorghum is 619,685 gallons, decrease of 6,670 gallons. The yield of obacco is 333,623 pounds, a decrease of 131,686 pounds. The yield of peas 795,310 bushels, an increase of bushels. The yield of sweet potatocs is bushels. The yield of Irish potatoes 571,329 bushels, a decrease of 100,203 bushels. It is estimated that the yield of hay, peavine bay and corn fodder is 306,240 tons, or 13,238 tons in excess of hast year. The value of farm supplier purchased during the year is estimated at the same as the amount purchased last year -$5,000,000.

The aggregate value of the principal ops produced the present year is estinated at $16,968,000, which exceeds the value of agricultural productions as re turned at the tenth census by about 5,000,000, and that of last year by about 3,000,000.

J. F. Physicc's Merchant Tailor E. ablishment, Columbia, S. C., is in full blast. Only a look will convince any All that want a first-class fitting suit try him. A full line of the best TALMAGE ON ANIMOSITY.

fe Tells His Hearers to Exercise Unlimited Forgiveness—Man, Whose Last Plea is for Mercy for Himself, Should Grant it to

"Harness your forgiveness to the sunset! If you don't forgive your enemies you won't come near enough to the haror of Heaven to see the lightship," said Dr. Talmage, addressing some 5,000 people in the Brooklyn Tabernacle on unday morning.

"Oh, let not the sun go down on your wrath," he continued. "Don't wait till 6.05 this evening, when the sun sets to forgive, but do it at the meridian. Very pany people are troubled with insomnia. Among the many ex-Confederates present, who were frequently greeted with cheers and applause as they were you an unfailing recipe for wakefulness. Think over all the wrongs that have been done you by people, then write a long letter about it; take out of their pigeon holes all the mean things you know about your enemies, then go to sleep if you ean; lie on your back and you'll have a nightmare.

"My friends, it is best to put a bound stroy their physical haalth. Many a man carries beneath his vest a gnawing aninosity. There are hundreds of thousands of families where there is the greatest need of a spirit of forgiveness. By the memory of your father's and nother's grave be reconciled."

Dr. Talmage related a case of faith cure that he witnessed in England, where the use of a woman's arm, that had been useless for years, was restored to her in presence of a number of people. "Since then," said he, "I believe God can do anything. If a man is ever so crooked with hate for a fellow being, God can straighten him out. Lay hold of Al-mighty God and he'll help you. History tells of a man who hated his father so much that he burned his body after he died, then took the ashes and put them in sacks and tied half the sacks to eagles that flew east, and half to others that

"Another reason why we should forgive," said the preacher, "is that we may not live to see another day. Most people die between 11 at night and 3 in the morning. Something in the atmosphere seems to relax the body from the soul at that time. They are apt to go out during the darkest hours of the night, and Heaven, always bright, is brighter then when they enter it. Oh, in that dark night, when we leave this world, our great plea will be merey. What a plight our souls will be in if we come unforgiving!

"I know of nothing more thrilling than the discovery at Pompeii of that soldier who had been on guard 1,700 years, standing with hand on sword, helmet on head, at the post of duty, when others in the doomed city were flying for their lives. We want to be on guard for God, true here and true there. I don't suppose I'm much more of a cow ard than other people, but I tell you plainly I could not sleep to-night unless I could shake hands with any one on earth." "If a man won't be reconciled you give in to him. 'Oh,' says some woman, 'I can't forgive her; she's done too much she's too hateful; it's no use; I can't forgive her and I won't.' My sister. you can if you try. A man says: 'That fellow started those stories, in the newspapers about me; he's too mean for any thing; I'll get even with him; I'll make my friend. 'But,' says some one in the gallery, 'you don't know what I've got to bear or you wouldn't talk that way.

moving day. The father put a large package in her arms, then piled on article after article till a stranger, who was passing, said: 'Hold on!' putting too much of a load on that little girl.' The child, looking up askance at the stranger, said: 'Father knows how preciated by my friends, and even after much I can carry;' and our Father in Governor Gordon's picture burned out Heaven knows how much we can carry. "Another reason why we ought to ally the sublimest action with the sublimest scene in nature. It's delight dissolution with curious feelings, and, ful to have some old place, old tree, old room or old gate associated with some

"Then you make me think of the little

on. Shakespeare wrote seven plays before he wrote 'Hamlet' and twenty-eight before he wrote 'Masbeth,' The man or woman least to b'ame is generally the one to take the first step toward reconwill make you measure three inches more around the chest, your respiration will be better, aye, it will make you more like God himself.

"Harness your forgiveness to the sunset. You've heard about the sunset of the Cordilleras, in the Apenines and Italy; but there is a finer one to be seen crease of 3,565,522 bushels. The yield when you throw all your animosities in of rice is 67,782,920 pounds, a decrease and let the horses of fire trample them of 1,843,002 pounds. The yield of wheat out, the chariots of fire rell over them, is 1.121.442 bushels, a decrease of 39,655 the billows of fire o'erwhelm them. God's greatest achievement is this sunset; your greatest, forgiveness.

"You never saw two sunsets alike, and think that if God can afford to hang over the wall of Heaven more masterpieces of natural art than all the Italian and Venetian galleries contain he can take good care of us. If God be for us who can be against us? So the sunset of earth is the sunrise of Heaven."

Scene at a Faneral.

Tiffin, Omo, October 27. - At a funeral ear Sycamore today, the team attached to educed almost to kindling wood. The collin was dashed to the ground, the lid orn off and the corpse rolled into the ditch by the roadside. Other teams took fright ad a general panic ensued. ainted, men jumped from the carriages, vacons were overturned, horses became atangled in a general wreck, and several is were more or less seriously injured. Rev. Mr. Howells, who was to have conducted the funeral exercises, was perhaps fatally injured.

It is said in Washington that immigrants from Mediterrancia ports infected with cholera are scattered all over the United States. It is now proposed to send back all vessels that may hereafter arrive from cholera ports if it can lawfully be done.